FICTION.

The Danger Mark

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Author of "Special Messenger," "The Firing Line," "The Fighting Chance," etc. Mr. Chambers' fourth brilliant novel of New York society has equalled—and outdistanced—the popularity of his previous successes in this field. This story of a love that prevailed over heredity and environment is told as only Mr. Chambers can tell a love story. Illustrated by A. B. Wessell. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The White Prophet

By HALL CAINE

Author of "Titan," "The Christian," "The Eternal City," etc. "An excellent piece of historical fiction, as well as a most entertaining romance. It is rich in events, superb in characterization, and fascinating in its atmosphere and colorful backgrounds. There is always an enchantment in Egypt, and Mr. Caine has drawn a live Cairo, a real desert." Spirited illustrations by R. Caton Woodville. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Hungry Heart

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

Author of "The Second Generation," "Old Wives for New," etc. "The most profound study of the emotions of men and women attempted in latter-day fiction. It should touch the sensibilities, the judgment, and the emotions of every one who reads it."—Philadelphia Record. "Wrought in the spirit of a master."—Chicago Evening Post. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

Keriah Coffin

By JOSEPH C. LINCOLN

Author of "Cy Whitaker's Place," "Cap'n Ed," "Our Village," etc. "In Keriah, who gives her name to the book, we have the same shrewd, capable, humorous woman that Mr. Lincoln has drawn frequently for our delight, only this time he shows with equal faithfulness the more serious and pathetic side of her character."—New York Sun. Quaint illustrations in pen and ink by Wallace Morgan. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Star of Love

By FLORENCE MORSE KINGSLEY

Author of "Titan," etc. A novel founded upon Bible history. The love story of Esther and Xerxes told in the form of a novel by a close and faithful student of the Bible, whose fascinating style and exquisite word-painting lend a new charm to this beautiful theme. Full-color reproductions of 8 sumptuous paintings by Arthur E. Hecker. 12mo, cloth, in a box. $2.00

Through the Wall

By CLEVELAND MOFFETT

Author of "The Battle," etc. "A remarkably clever detective story. It is crammed full of exciting incidents. It is impossible to lay the book down at any time without having the idea that a few more pages will make things clearer, and so the reader is likely to keep right on to the end. If translated into French it would secure most francophones into a belief that it had been written by a Parisian."—New York Sun. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth. $1.50

Seymour Charlton

By W. B. MAXWELL

Author of "Vivian," "The Guarded Flame," etc. "Mr. Maxwell has achieved greatness. He has placed himself near Thackeray and Dickens, near Meredith and Hardy."—London Morning Leader. "It is not likely that we shall see any better novel than this during the winter season."—Wm. Robertson Nicoll. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Price of Lis Doris

By MAARTEN MAARTENS

Author of "God's Fool," "Dorothy," "The New Religion," "The Healer," "Brothers All," etc. "In this strong and tender book we have Maarten Maartens at his best. It is a work such as he has not given us since his memorable mystical romance, 'God's Fool.'"—The Outlook, London, England. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Pride of the Graftons

By PRISCILLA CRAVEN

"One of the clearest novels of English society life which has appeared since the days of 'David.' Priscilla Craven, the author, has a keen wit and sense of style, together with a good deal of ability in construction and in character drawing."—R. T. Tress. 12mo, cloth, decorated cover. $1.50

The Deeper Stain

By FRANK HIRD

Author of "Victoria the Woman." Should a wife tell her husband the truth when the truth would surely kill him? This is the keynote of Mr. Hird's remarkable novel. It is a novel which deals with the pride of a man and the self-sacrifice of a woman—a love story from beginning to end. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Climpse

By ARNOLD BENNETT

Author of "The Old Wives' Tale," etc. "In point of treatment, the tale is exceptional. There is a power, a conviction about the whole that precludes any possibility of scorn in regard to the hero's spiritual experiences. And the various characters, few but living, stand out in unusual vividness."—Chicago Record-Herald. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The End of the Road

By STANLEY PORTAL HYATT

Author of "The Little Brown Brother." "The story is an intensely human one, splendidly written, and the characters are real people doing real things in a world of achievement."—Boston Globe. "A man's book, though many women will like it. Too intimate, too seemingly apart, too atmospheric, to be other than real."—Cleveland Leader. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

BOOKS FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

Double Play

By RALPH HENRY BARBOUR

Author of "The Half-Back," "Weather's Landing," etc. Further adventures of Dan Vinton—hero of "Forward Pass!"—at Yarding Hall. The depiction of how a young man grows into an overtrained athlete and develops from it a winning team will appeal to every boy. Illustrated in color. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

Jack Hall at Yale

By WALTER CAMP

Author of "The Substitute." A story following, but not distinctly a sequel to, Mr. Camp's successful juvenile, "The Substitute." It deals principally with football in college and gives a picture of the Glee Club Concert, Giving Away the Penn, Tap Day, and a Yale-Harvard game. Illustrated in color. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

Florence Nightingale

By LAURA E. RICHARDS

The life story of "The Angel of the Crimea" is here beautifully and completely related by a famous writer whose own father was in part responsible for confirming Miss Nightingale in her determination to devote her life to nursing. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth. Net $1.50

Louisa May Alcott

By BELLE MOSES

An admirable story of the childhood and womanhood of the celebrated author of "Little Women," told especially for girl readers. Miss Moses has excellently caught the beautiful home spirit of the Alcott family circle. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth. Net $1.50

The Free Rangers

By JOSEPH A. ALTSHELER

Author of "The Last of the Chiefs," "The Forest Runners," etc. The exciting journey down the Mississippi to New Orleans of five young woodsmen, some of whose adventures were told in "The Forest Runners," to interview the Spanish Governor-General. Illustrated in color. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Last of the Chiefs

By JOSEPH A. ALTSHELER

Author of "The Free Rangers," "The Forest Runners," etc. Two white boys join a caravan crossing the plains. After an ambush, from which they alone escape, through the good will of an Indian guide, they establish themselves in the Montana hills, and live as trappers. Illustrated in color. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The New Sonhamore

By JAMES SHELLEY HAMILTON

Author of "Bull Chucker, Freshman." The story of Bull Chucker's sophomore year, but with a new member of Bull's class for hero. Plot counts more than in the former story. For a strong detective interest centers around a statue of a river goddess, hidden by one class while the other attempts to find and capture it. Illustrated in color. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Red Caps of Lyons

By HENRY HAYENS

The scene is Lyons at the outbreak of the French Revolution. The father of the young hero is accused of being a sympathizer with the aristocrats, whence come insupportable perils which are turned to the boy's advantage by his own ingenuity and courage. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

The Adventures of Little Knight Brave

By FRANCES B. REES

A story for young folk, in which a little boy goes into an enchanted forest to rescue the little daughter of a king. He meets with giants and dwarfs, animals that talk to him, and birds and other creatures that help him. 40 illustrations. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

Tales of the

Red Children

By ANNIE FARWELL BROWN and J. M. BELL

This is a little book of American and Canadian Indian legends. They deal very largely with wild animals both in their native haunts where the Indian children met and talked with them and in their daily life among themselves. 28 illustrations. 12mo, cloth. $1.00

Around Afghanistan By MAJOR DE BOUILLANE DE LACOSTE

With a preface by M. Georges Laygues. Translated from the French by J. G. Anderson. Paris, March 21—Tehran, April 16—Askabad—Andijan—the Chinese frontier to Yarkand—Chinese Turkestan—Little Tibet—Zedji-La Vase—Srinagar, Kashmir—Itawal Pindi—Baluchistan—Meshed, January 30.
